BUCKNELL

UNIVERSITY

L'AGENDA

The periodic processes of registering, scheduling, and paying bills made us realize the tremendous task of the administration. Little did we understand how hard they worked to unite and guide us.

May we thank God for having given us the opportunity to further our friendship with such wonderful classmates. Every senior must feel that the class of '56 is an exceptional one in the fact that it has been closely knit, co-operative, and friendly. Many years will pass before we forget the friends we have made here.

There is no doubt that the many activities we engaged in were able to develop our lives. Whether it was a fraternity or a sorority, student government, sports, or a dramatic production, each one taught us something that could not be had in books.

The staff has tried to imprint these three phases of Bucknell life in the 1956 L'AGENDA with the hope that when you pick this book up in the years to come, your experiences will come to life. An editor cannot capture enthusiasm, interest or spirit. He can only print pictures and copy—you must read between the lines and associate your memories with those suggested herein.

SELDOM is a university privileged to claim the devotion of an individual so eminently qualified as Dr. William H. Coleman. In his thirty-one years of association with Bucknell, Dr. Coleman has shown himself to be a gentle yet firm administrator, a witty and polished writer and speaker, and a gentleman in every respect. His flair for expression and feeling for the correct phrase is at all times evident whether he is publicly presenting a candidate for an honorary degree or privately informing a student that "he lacks certain vital quality credits."

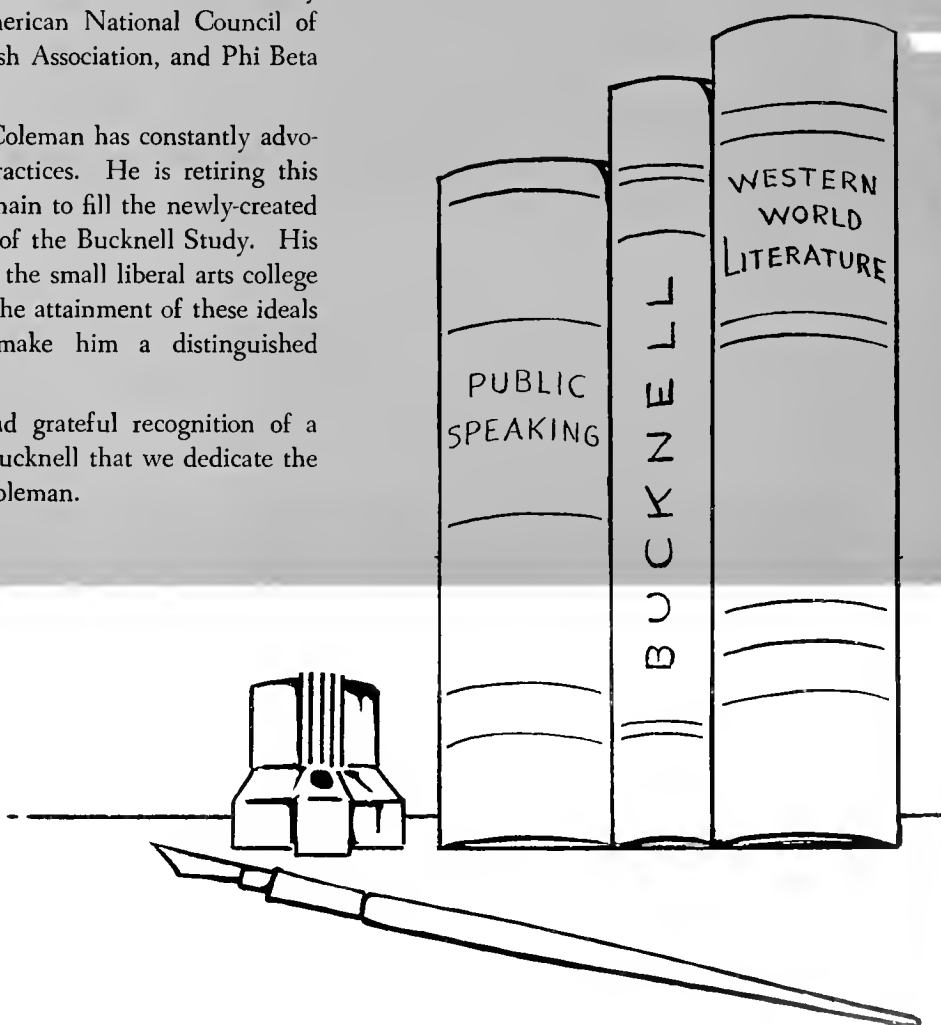

Dean Coleman was graduated from Acadia University in Nova Scotia where he later received his Doctor of Literature degree. He also studied at Yale University, the University of Wisconsin, Harvard, and Cambridge. In 1924, Dr. Coleman became affiliated with Bucknell and has held his present position of vice president and dean since 1953.

Dr. Coleman's outstanding contributions to scholarship include the co-editorship of Western World Literature, and articles for such periodicals as the Quarterly Review of London. He has been elected to the Modern Language Association of America, the Shakespeare Association, the American Association of University Professors, Facsimile Text Society, American National Council of Teachers of English, the College English Association, and Phi Beta Kappa.

During his years at Bucknell Dr. Coleman has constantly advocated the forward look in academic practices. He is retiring this June from his post as dean but will remain to fill the newly-created position of vice president and secretary of the Bucknell Study. His knowledge of the ideals to be sought in the small liberal arts college and his ability and energy to strive for the attainment of these ideals have made and will continue to make him a distinguished administrator.

It is with sincere appreciation and grateful recognition of a man devoted to his profession and to Bucknell that we dedicate the 1956 L'AGENDA to Dr. William H. Coleman.

The President

The installation of Dr. Merle M. Odgers in December of 1954 as the tenth president of Bucknell marked the commencement of another chapter in the history of the University. Dr. Odgers, now a full-fledged member of the Bucknell family, maintains the enormous responsibility of coordinating its complicated academic and administrative divisions. While the actual operation of the institution of Bucknell lies in many hands, Dr. Odgers ultimately supervises this operation, and insures the Board of Trustees of a smoothly-run organization.

Serving as chief executive, Dr. Odgers acts also, in official capacity, as Bucknell's ambassador to the outside world.

MERLE M. ODGERS

The Chaplain

Although he has been a member of the Bucknell family for only three years, Dr. Mark C. Ebersole has made a profound impression upon the minds and hearts of many Bucknellians. His appointment last spring as chaplain has affirmed his capabilities in religious administration and in student counseling. In addition to presiding over the weekly chapel services, Dr. Ebersole acts as religious representative for University affairs. With his great humility and faith, Dr. Ebersole has truly become a beloved friend to all who know him.

English

Language is a body of words and the method of combining these words in order that they may be used and understood by a certain community. English is the language of our community. Therefore, it is an important requisite for our citizens, and its proper use is a necessity for all, especially the student who will enter the outside world with a desire to communicate through words of mouth and pen.

In this inside world of Bucknell, recognition is given to outstanding English and journalism students through initiation into Sigma Tau Delta, honorary English fraternity, and Pi Delta Epsilon, a national journalism fraternity. Both groups, in turn, aid the college community by increasing the general interest in English through the study of literature and the improvement of journalism on campus.

Speech and Drama

English is given effective practical usage through the efforts of the drama and speech divisions of the English department. Here students are taught to improve and develop their communication with one another by the study and presentation of outstanding plays and by their own concentration on proper pronunciation of words and effective delivery of speeches.

Students active in Bucknell's Cap and Dagger are awarded membership into Theta Alpha Phi, the national dramatics honorary. The group reads and suggests plays for the dramatic organization and doubles as their right-hand man.

The national forensic honorary, Tau Kappa Alpha, is open to all who are interested in debating and who fulfill the requirements for membership. Members of this organization must not only demonstrate excellent speaking habits but a persuasive nature as well.

German, Latin and Greek

In an era when Germany is involved in the most significant of current events, a knowledge of the language and country is a valuable possession. The German department purposes to give its students the opportunity to master that knowledge. Women students who major in German must live in German House, and all students of the language attend conversation hours there. German majors may work toward membership in the honorary society, Delta Phi Alpha.

The study of Greek and Latin provides the student with the origin of many of the most profound thoughts and theories ever proposed in history. It illuminates the foundations of our language and yields the models for much of the world's greatest art.

In almost every sphere of study a knowledge of the classics proves its value.

Spanish

Bucknell's Spanish department not only endeavors to give the student a proficient knowledge of the language itself but fundamental understanding of the history, literature, and customs of Spanish-speaking countries as well. As the ability to converse in a foreign language is an essential part of the mastery of that language, residence in Spanish House for at least one year is required of every woman student majoring in Spanish. Conversation hours are held at Spanish House each week for those students who wish to perfect their oral mastery of the language. Spanish majors who fulfill the qualifications to do so may join the Spanish honorary, Sigma Delta Pi.

French

"Parlez-vous francais? Mais oui!" These phrases are familiar ones to all French students. After having studied this language and its literature, one can well understand the importance of French in world relations today. In order to be adept at its use, students improve their pronunciation in the new audio-oral room and spend conversational hours in La Maison Francaise. By means of the French Regional Major, Bucknellians have the unique opportunity of learning the language in a manner which may be used for careers in journalism, foreign service, or international relations. Those who utilize fully their opportunities are elected to the French honorary, Pi Delta Phi, whose members attempt to obtain a deeper knowledge of the language and culture.

Art

Artistically inclined students will forever have vivid recollections of the art garret where, paint brush in hand, they spent many hours acquiring greater skill in their work of seeking to set down life as they saw it. The courses in the history of art bring knowledge and deeper appreciation to those without creative artistic talent. An unforgettable experience is visiting Mr. Bruce Mitchell, our artist-in-residence, whose works in water color are justly reknowned. His studio has always been open to interested students and townspeople during his semester of residence each year. Mr. Mitchell is, also, responsible for the art exhibitions which are brought to the campus.

Music

Bucknellians looking back over the year's changes will recall the remarkable renovation of the old chemistry building which took place over the summer and brought the music department from its former Sixth Street home to the center of campus.

Now students hurrying up the hill hear strains of music emerging from the underground chambers, where music students are busily practicing their scales. Although the intermingled instrumental and vocal sounds may seem confused and off-key, individual talent is easily recognizable during performances of the students at bi-monthly recitals. Harried Music 100 students feverishly absorb classical themes in spacious listening rooms of the building.

Mu Phi, national professional music sorority, carries on a varied program of musical activities throughout the year. Music students are eligible for membership in their sophomore year, if they have met with the requirements of theory study, good grades, and musicianship.

Philosophy

During the time that they are at Bucknell most liberal arts students become acquainted with the philosophy department, housed in the low white building halfway up the hill. In philosophy class they face the fundamental questions raised by man since the beginning of his existence and study the answers which have been proposed by the world's deep thinkers. Philosophy searches for the ideals by which each culture exists; it seeks reality and infallible sources of knowledge. Truth, Beauty, the Good, and the Holy are studied as the integral core of man's ideologies; they are the basis for the aesthetic sense which raises man to the highest position in the scale of living organisms.

For students interested in the field of philosophy, the Philosophy Club offers opportunity for extra study. Its purpose is to develop the various aspects and contributions of philosophy in the direction of student needs and interests.

Religion

Bucknell's religious heritage is ever present. The activities on campus such as Christian Association, Religion In-Life-Week, and the general program of the university show the strong Christian beliefs from which Bucknell gains its strength and character. For those interested in religious vocations, Kappa Chi Lambda serves not only as a manifestation of scholastic achievement, but as an opportunity to meet with others with similar aspirations, and to give service in the love of fellowman. Our religion department can thus be seen to be more than merely another segment of the academic curriculum. It is an integral part of the university's organization, from whence come the policies that govern our actions and develop our character.

Bucknell's rapidly expanding academic program is aptly illustrated by the growth of the department of psychology during the past few years. Since moving into new quarters in 1953, the department has increased its staff and has expanded its experimental projects. An increasing number of enrollments by students in the many courses offered by the department indicates a growing interest in the studies of the mind in relation to behavior.

Industrious psychology students are rewarded with membership in Psi Chi, the psychology honorary fraternity. Psychology Club, offering a varied program throughout the year, stimulates interest in the department.

Sociology

The practice of theory for understanding things social is the chief emphasis of the sociology department. Personnel and courses of the department stress not answers but methods of finding answers. Students have been encouraged to do honors research, to do field research in the Central Pennsylvania Project, and to explore the uses of tape recorder and camera as research instruments, for theory is made vivid by sight and sound of specific social situations. The sociology department has helped with the Newsmen's Conference, and this year, with psychology, put on the first conference of the Bucknell Institute of Local Studies.

Political Science

To Bucknellians interested in the organization of the world's governments the political science department is familiar. Through political science, students learn the weaknesses and strengths of our democracy as well as other forms of government. The apparent complexity of the political world is analyzed and dissected until all the parts are clearly visible.

Pi Sigma Alpha, political science honorary society, and Washington Semester are two of the goals toward which a political science major may strive. The latter affords an opportunity for selected students to spend a full semester at American University in Washington, D. C., where they are given the opportunity to utilize source material and learn directly about United States government.

"Mr. Chairman, I move . . ."

Dr. Koo speaks and history lives.

History

To most Bucknellians, the history department is probably best remembered in connection with History 99 and 100. These two courses illustrate the function of history in society, that of recording and explaining past events. In advanced courses, the student becomes involved with the particular phases of history and is given the opportunity for more intensive study. A knowledge of history is, perhaps, one of the most necessary possessions the student may carry with him into the world. Only when in possession of this knowledge will he be adequately prepared to understand the nature of current civilizations.

This year, in addition to the regularly offered courses on western world history, the students have had the unusual opportunity of learning Oriental history. The courses, dealing with China, Japan, and India, are under the tutelage of Dr. T. Z. Koo, visiting lecturer on Oriental studies.

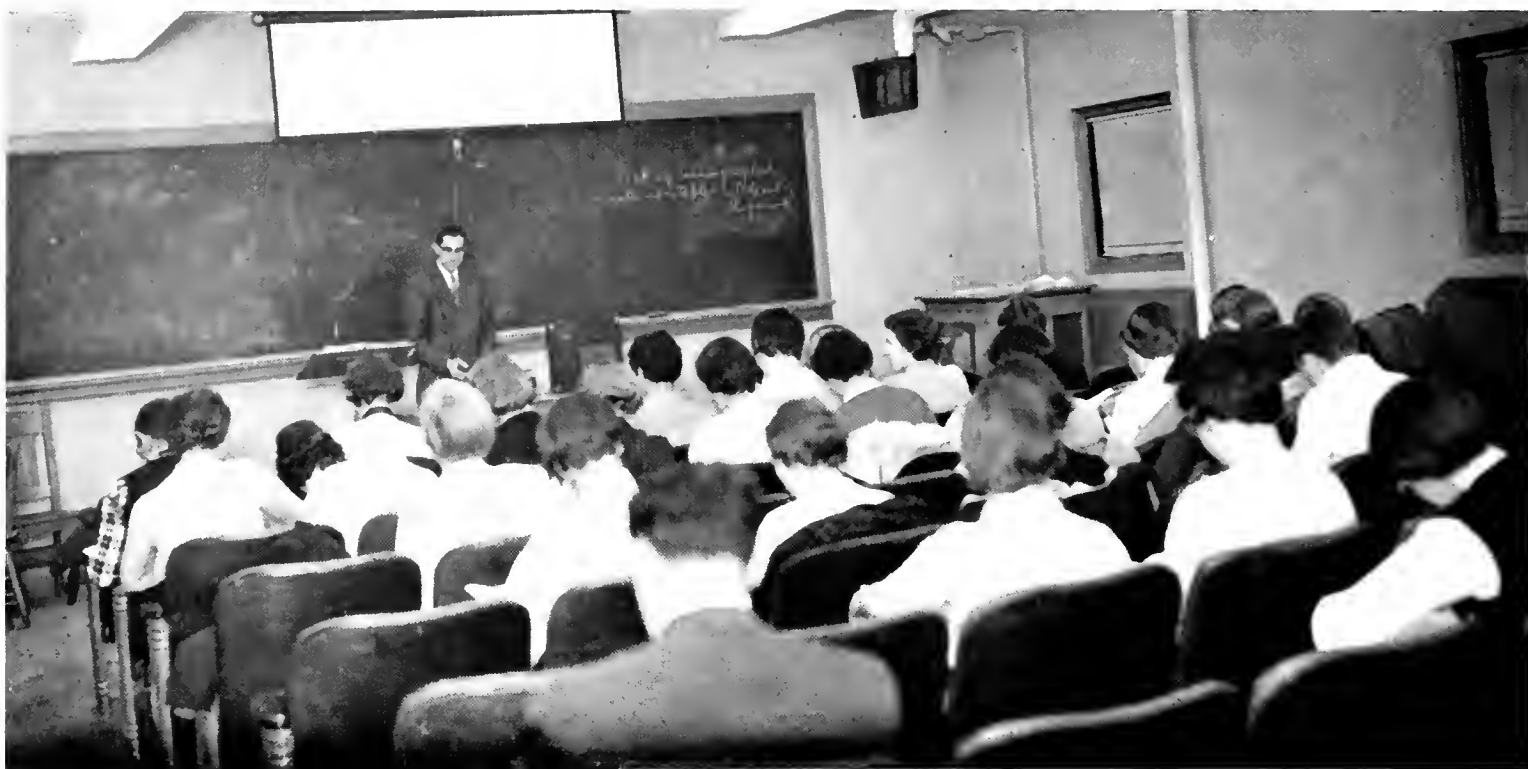

The history honorary society, Phi Alpha Theta, recognizes and honors those students scholastically outstanding in the field.

University Course

To many Bucknellians, University Course is a vague term denoting nothing more than a group of intellectual students who go to class on Tuesday and Friday afternoons from four to five-thirty. To those who participate in the University Course program, however, the class is a time for outstanding lectures and stimulating discussions. In addition to scheduled classes, brilliant men in their respective fields are often brought to the campus to conduct special lectures.

To the directors of the program: Professors Warren, Martin, Garvin and Polonoff, University Course represents a steadily growing achievement, which, in its brief three-year career, has fully proved its worth in the Bucknell academic curriculum. "The University Course Program of Integration" was conceived to fill the need for a course which would unify the elements of experience and knowledge. It was an attempt, since grown into a reality, to show the interrelations among the various fields of specialization.

The program is now organized into a sequence of four courses in which the student examines the major fields of human knowledge to determine their basic differences and interrelationships. The first semester deals with the conditions of valid inquiry, the second with the sciences, the third with the humanities, and the fourth with philosophical and practical integration.

Biology

In his habitat of Taylor Hall, the biology major hibernates for the winter with microscope and slide in hand. Spring calls him to the fields and woodland where he wanders happily, seeking specimens and natural phenomena. He is distinguished by his white coat and blue and red-stained fingers.

Biology offers the student a frame of reference through which he is better able to appreciate all aspects of life, from the social to the religious. The wonders of creation are revealed to him.

Two special groups associated with the biology department are Phi Sigma, the biology honorary, and the Pre-medical Society. From these sources come a score of future doctors, nurses, technologists, and teachers—no small part of Bucknell's contribution to society.

As the bio major looks back on his college experience, he will remember vividly his attempts at pioneer research; his Phi Sigma project; his poor, dissected cat; "Operation Taylor," when his second home underwent internal rejuvenation—these thoughts and many more will remind him of Bucknell.

Chemistry

As the class of '56 gazed through freshman eyes upon the ancient but proud chemistry building at the foot of the hill, they never dreamed that one day soon the whirl of the centrifuge would give way to the wail of the clarinet. Three years later, however, thanks to modern engineering and the Olin Foundation, Bucknell's world of test tubes and beakers has been expanded and greatly beautified. Seniors have had the privilege of helping to christen the Olin Science Building where even distilled water runs from the taps. With the erection of the new building, science has received added impetus at Bucknell and the role of chemistry in the curriculum has increased its importance.

Alpha Chi Sigma, National Professional Chemical Fraternity, and the American Chemical Society are the two groups to which outstanding chemistry students may gain admittance.

In addition to their new facilities, this year the department has also formed a Physics Club for those students interested in the field. The honorary society is Sigma Pi Sigma which recognizes those students scholastically outstanding in physics.

Geography and Geology

The geography and geology departments present Bucknellians with knowledge concerning the physical nature of the earth, and man's relationship to that earth. The departments now offer separate degrees to students majoring in these fields. As a result of this recent readjustment, geology now maintains a more definite status among the sciences, and geography has become a more integrated discipline in both the social and physical sciences.

Mathematics and Astronomy

To a great many Bucknellians, mathematics constitutes the impossible. We gaze upon the math majors with awe. Formulae which to many of us are completely unintelligible seem to work magically under their careful manipulation, yielding the correct answers to the most difficult problems. Outstanding students of mathematics are granted the honor to becoming members of Phi Mu Epsilon, the national mathematics fraternity.

The mathematics department has been fortunate this year in gaining the facilities of the new Olin Science Building. Although the department is no longer centralized, the available space is much more adequate for its needs.

Astronomy students, the closest creatures to spacemen on our 300 acres, are most noted for their nocturnal laboratory periods. The science of the stars acquaints Bucknellians with the vast universe of which our earth is a tiny fragment, and seeks to discover the character of our place in that universe.

Commerce and Finance

While other struggling students may claim that the life of the commerce and finance major is an easy one, little do they know of the trouble and woe hidden in the study of business. What of the books that do not balance or the office machines which refuse to operate? The life of the economics major is no leisurely existence.

Only through a knowledge of the economic system can one understand the other aspects of his society. Indeed it would be a sad situation had we no efficient businessmen or pretty secretaries to keep our fast-moving economic world running smoothly and to explain to us its complex organization.

The national economics honorary fraternity, Delta Mu Delta, offers membership to the outstanding students majoring in commerce and finance.

Education

Perhaps no department is so well-known to Bucknell students as the education department. While everyone may refer to "happiness" and "games" classes with a smile, they realize, at the same time, the true significance of the role which education plays in society. To present the knowledge gathered through many generations, and to prepare the child for a full, meaningful adult life is the enormous task assigned to the teacher. The teacher constitutes one of the most profound influences upon an individual throughout his childhood and adolescence. The molding of primary and secondary teachers of the highest calibre constitutes the purpose of Bucknell's department of education.

The honoraries for Education majors are Kappa Delta Epsilon for women, and Kappa Phi Kappa for men. Both were established to promote the cause of education and to make more common the realization of the nation's growing need for excellent teachers.

Military Science

The sight of men students arrayed in trim R. O. T. C. uniforms each Friday morning serves as a periodical reminder of the military science department. Established at Bucknell in 1951, this department is responsible for the training of officers for the armies of our nation in event of an all-out war.

To vary its military training program, the R. O. T. C. department sponsors several extra-curricular activities. These include Officers' Club, R. O. T. C. Band, Scabbard and Blade, and Pershing Rifles. The Pershing Rifles squad is a new organization, receiving its charter in 1954. Consisting of students interested in intricate drill maneuvers, it develops leadership and discipline in its members.

With these activities the department of military science and tactics endeavors to build the citizenship and leadership of those students who will become officers in the armed forces.

In Memoriam

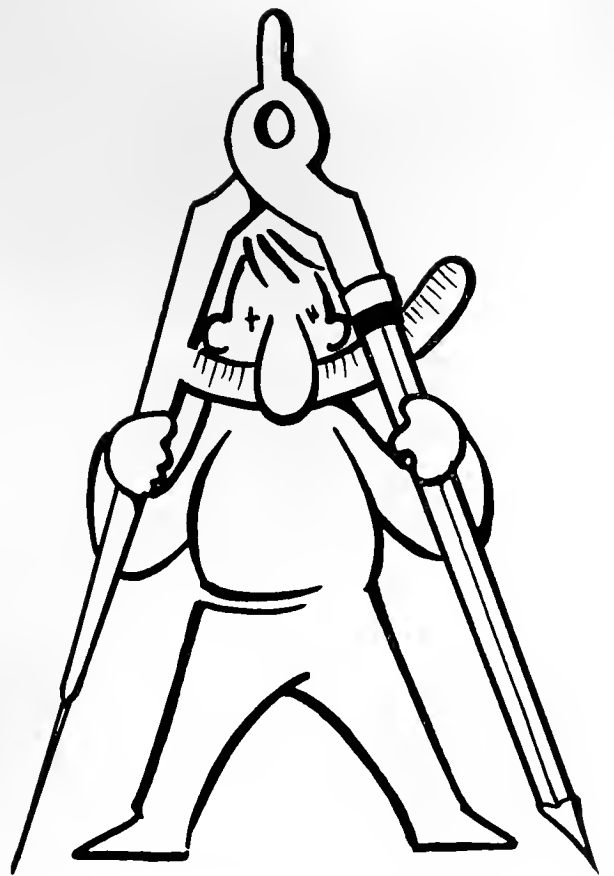

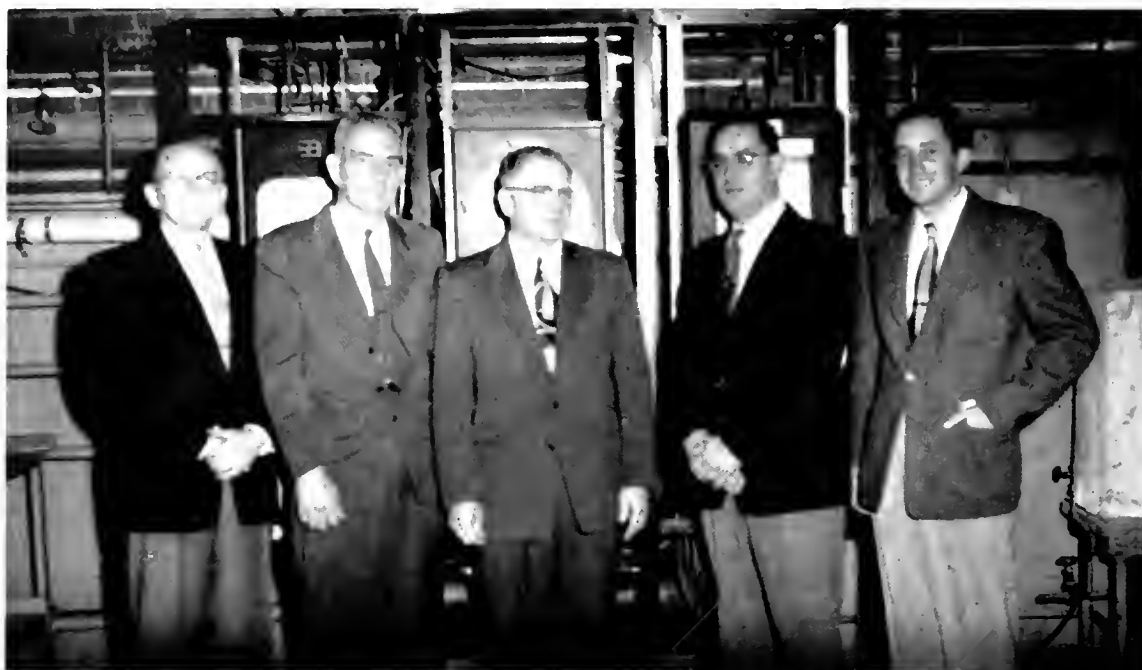

DR. CLARENCE RICHARDSON

The competence and capability of our faculty are facts of which Bucknellians have always been most proud. Perhaps no finer example of the love of knowledge and the desire to teach others may be cited than that of the late Professor Clarence H. Richardson, whose unselfish devotion to the university and personal interest in his students endeared him to all his associates.

During his years at Bucknell Dr. Richardson served for a quarter of a century as chairman of the mathematics department, held the position of secretary of the faculty for three years, contributed much time and energy to the Christian Association, and was an active participant in Phi Beta Kappa. He was the author of two textbooks and co-author of a third.

Above all, however, Dr. Richardson was dedicated to his profession as a teacher. His years of faithful service to the cause of education will remain as a cherished memory in the minds of all who knew him.

Chemical Engineering

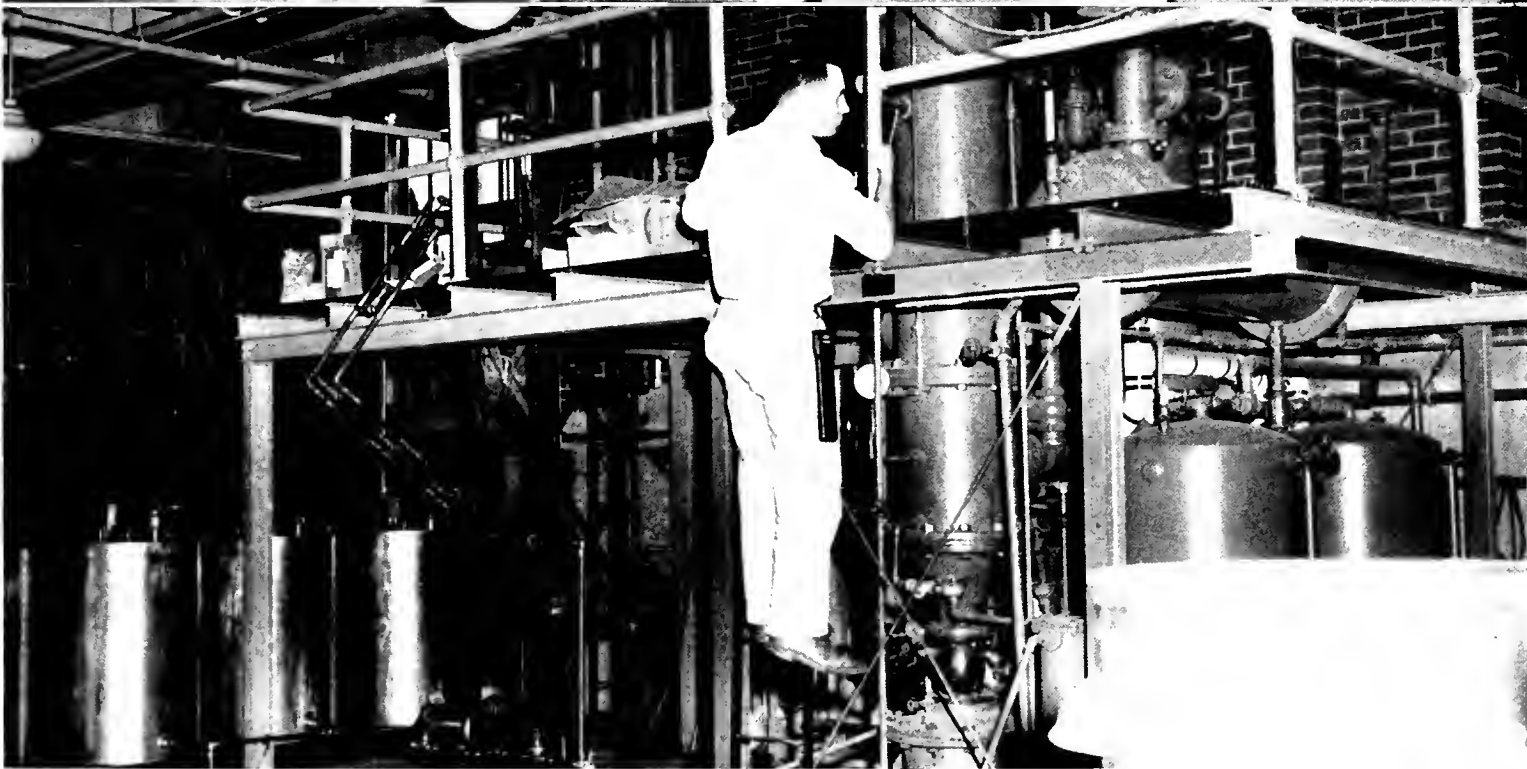

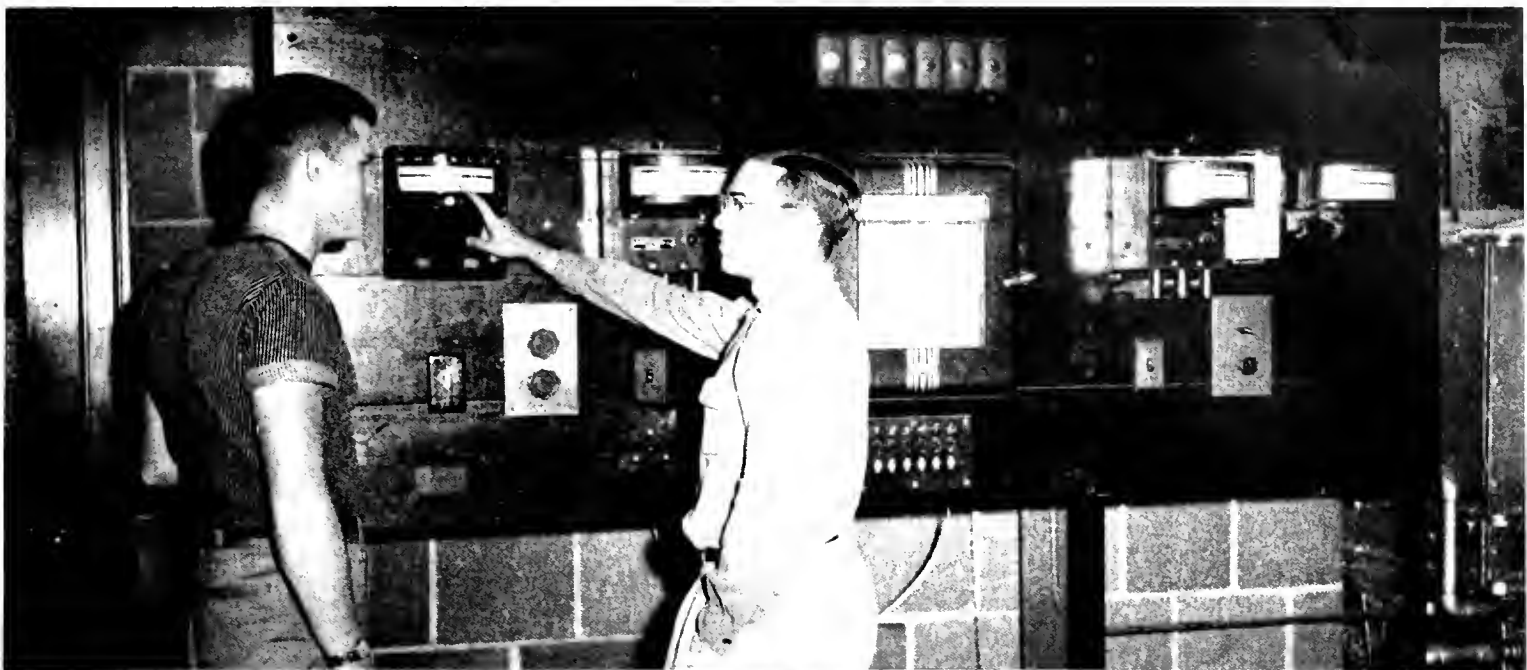

Chemical engineering is concerned with research, design, development, and production management in the manufacturing industries which involve chemical or physical changes. When research has developed a new product, it is the job of the chemical engineer to transfer it from the test tube to large scale economical production.

To solve these industrial problems, a thorough knowledge of chemistry, physics, and mathematics is necessary. Laboratory work, supervised by Dr. Hugh Sims and Dr. George Minard, includes the study of production, unit operations, metallurgy, and the layout and design of a modern chemical plant. In his senior year the student has an opportunity to go on a week's tour to various industries, and to observe the practical application of chemical engineering.

The American Institute of Chemical Engineers has been established to advance chemical engineering, and to promote a greater interest in the field. Eminent men from chemical industries are guest speakers at the meetings. Technical films are also presented to give the student a broader outlook on his profession.

Civil Engineering

Civil engineering is one of the oldest professions known to man. It is also a dynamic profession which is constantly expanding with the introduction of new problems and ideas. The courses are arranged to give the student a thorough understanding of mathematics, physics, surveying, and mechanics. After these subjects are mastered the civil engineer, under the supervision of Dr. Dalzell Griffith and his staff, studies water supply, structural theory, and design. Several times during the year the department sponsors inspection trips to view important structures and constructions in Central Pennsylvania.

The American Society for Civil Engineers has been established to promote social and professional contact with prominent men in the field of civil engineering. At the meetings, the students have the opportunity to hear nationally recognized military, highway, and bridge engineers speak on their work. Several meetings are devoted solely to student participation. In these meetings the students are given the opportunity to discuss their civil engineering jobs of the previous summer or report on research projects in which they are engaged.

Electrical Engineering

Almost every activity in the current jet age stems from, or is related to a branch of science that is less than seventy years old. The electrical engineering student spends his first two years in attaining a sound knowledge of electricity, physics, and mathematics. With these fundamentals mastered, his last two years are centered around the study of electrical circuits and machinery, electronics, radio, design, and communication. The laboratory work, which is supervised by Dr. George Irland, consists of setting up circuits and observing the operating characteristics of electrical machinery.

Several inspection tours are taken each year to installations and power plants in Pennsylvania. These trips are conducted in order to acquaint the student with the practical application of classroom theory, and to impress upon him the magnitude of his future work.

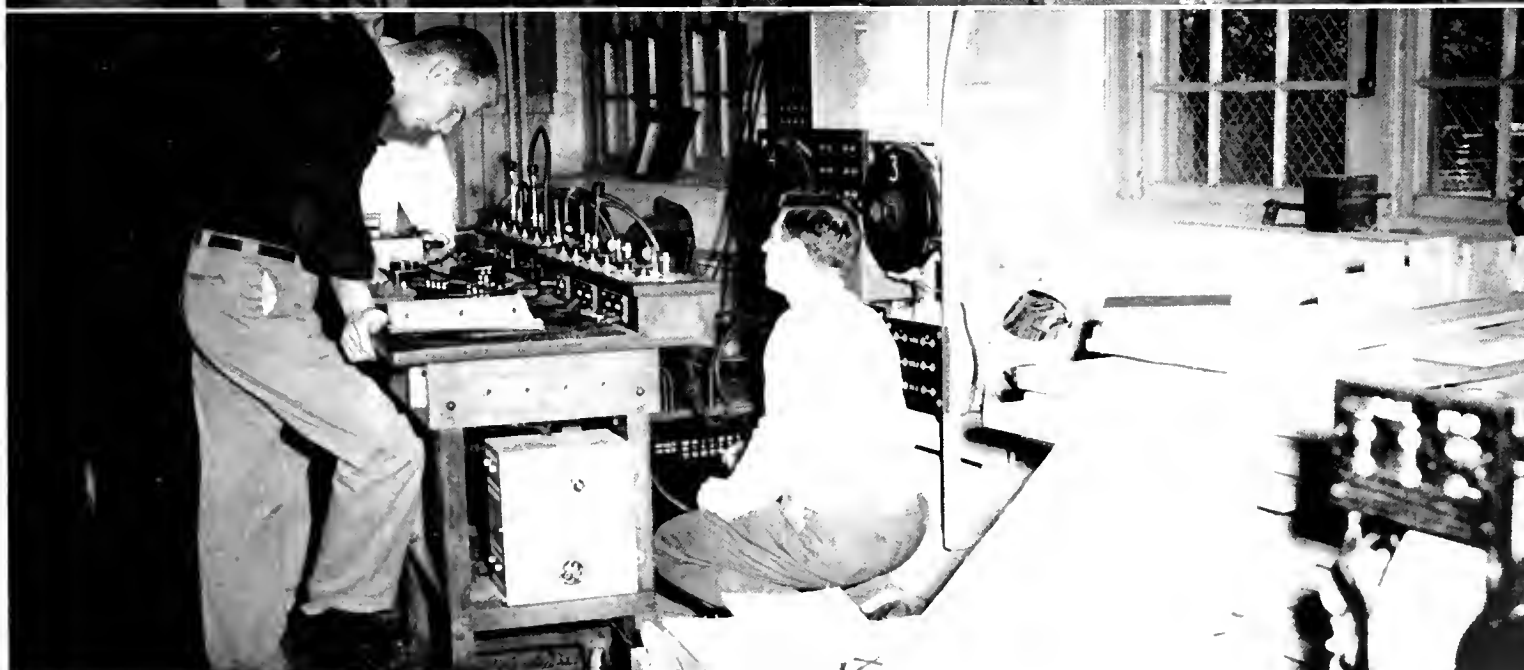

The American Institute of Electrical Engineers, and the Institute of Radio Engineers are open to all electrical engineers. At the meetings, student papers are submitted, and visiting speakers provide a closer relationship between the student and the electrical engineering profession.

Mechanical Engineering

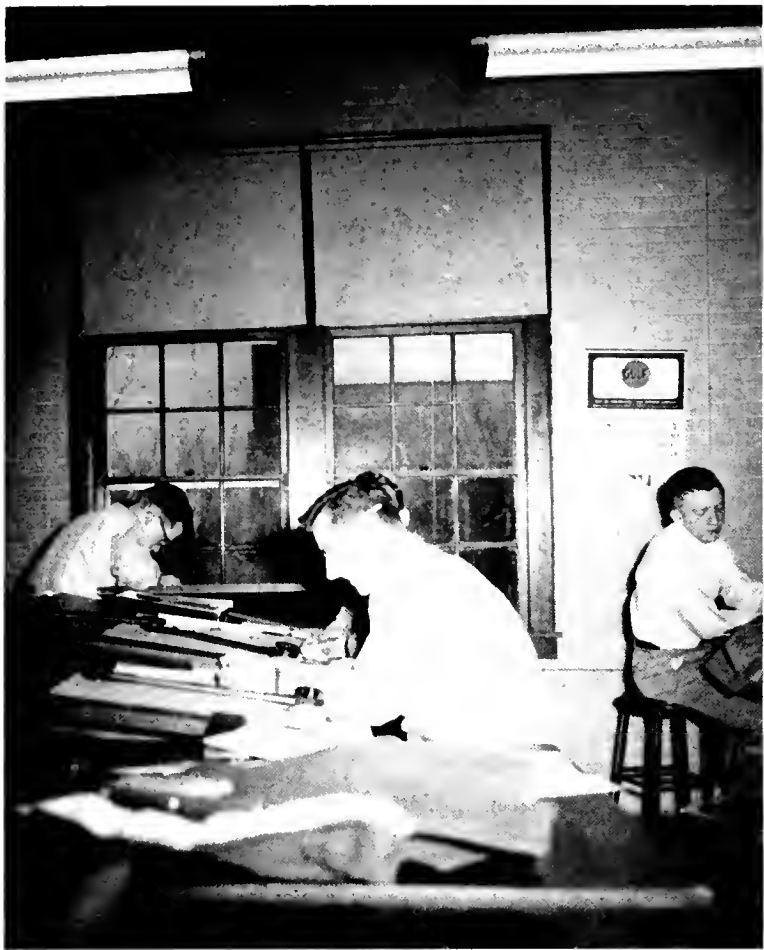

The mechanical engineering student utilizes most of his time in learning subjects such as thermodynamics and mechanics, and how to apply them to power cycles and steam and internal combustion engines. To the uninitiated it sounds complex, but under the direction of Professor Warren Garman and the staff it becomes clear to the student as he first learns the basic principles and then is shown their importance and application in advanced courses. Practical experience is gained in the machine shop lab, hydraulics lab, and heat and power lab, where the intricacies of steam and internal combustion are studied thoroughly. Near the Susquebanna is the foundry where the student becomes acquainted with methods of molding and casting.

Each year the senior students take an inspection trip to a large industrial area. On these trips the student observes the application of the principles which he has learned at Bucknell.

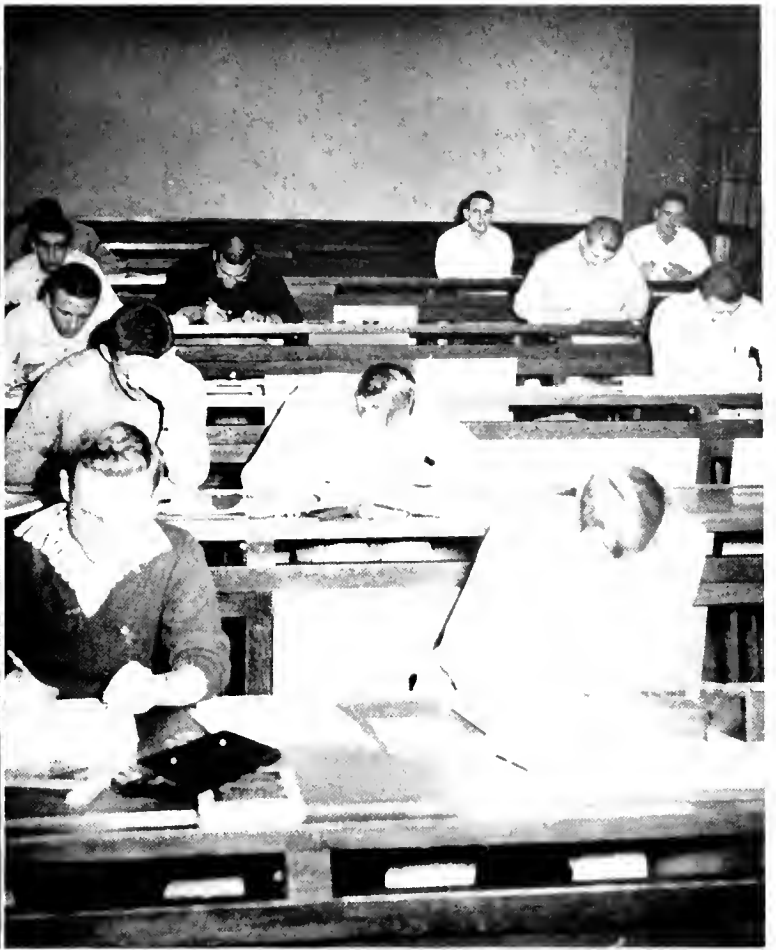

Further knowledge of the field is attained in a more informal atmosphere than that of the classroom at the meetings of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers. Technical movies and prominent industrialists acquaint the student with the numerous facets of his future profession.

In Memoriam

WILLIAM L. HAINES

Bill Haines was born in Lynn, Massachusetts on April 17, 1935, and came to Bucknell University from Laguna Beach, California, which was his adopted state during his high school years. A Dean's List student, Bill displayed his leadership qualities by representing his class on the Men's Student Assembly and his fraternity on the Interfraternity Council. As a member of Sigma Chi, he excelled in intramural athletics and also held the offices of vice president and treasurer during his junior year.

We, who were fortunate enough to share Bill's unlimited enthusiasm, his pleasing personality, and his devoted friendship for three short years, are thankful for the opportunity of knowing so fine a man.

"... true friendship between man and man is infinite and immortal." PLATO

Student-Faculty Congress

Student-Faculty Congress is an organization which delves into all aspects and phases of student life. Besides its own major officers, its membership consists of faculty and administration representatives, the presidents of the four classes, and the leaders of all campus governmental organizations.

SFC offers an opportunity for representatives of the faculty, the students, and the administration to meet together to discuss problems and approve policies.

Major debatable issues are brought before this group in an attempt to determine campus-wide opinion and formulate a satisfactory solution. Faculty, students, and administrators meet here on common ground to discuss controversial issues. Often areas of misunderstanding arise between students and the faculty or administration. It is the job of SFC to hear complaints or suggestions, discuss the matter, and issue recommendations. Also under the jurisdiction of SFC are the Artists Course, Spring Festival, class elections, student budgets, and freshman rules committee.

As their representatives constitute the majority of members in this organization, Student-Faculty Congress assures Bucknell students of a decided voice in campus policy.

"The Student-Faculty Congress shall serve as the supreme executive instrument for directing student life at Bucknell University . . ."

W. S. G. A.

From the moment she touches the campus to the day she graduates, a Bucknell co-ed is a part of the Women's Student Government Association. Likewise, she is a representative of the social Honor System by which Bucknell women live. Upon her acceptance of responsibility and her judgment lies the success of both these systems.

W. S. G. A., structurally similar to our national government, is composed of a House of Representatives, Senate, and Honor Council, the members of which are selected by the women students each year. W. S. G. A. organizes the Faculty Tea, Student-Faculty Banquet, and Moving Up Day.

The Honor System, now eight years old, offers the standards by which Bucknell women are expected to live. Demonstrating the advantage of a disciplined and responsible way of life, the principles of the Honor System are something to remember throughout life.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Standing—E. Speer, J. Johnson, R. Taylor, Dean M. Musser, D. Booth, D. Koppes, W. Lenker.

M. S. A.

Bucknellians who have watched the Men's Student Assembly grow during its three years of existence are proud of the success which it has made in so short a time. M. S. A., composed of a Men's Council and a House of Representatives, serves as an instrument through which the men students may collectively voice opinions and requests. It promotes group activities among the men, and provides the means by which such activities may be planned and carried out. Last year M. S. A. sponsored "open houses" in the men's dormitories, and, upon recommendation from the Assembly, new traffic signs were installed in Bucknell Village.

Leadership

The tapping of the new members for Mortar Board each spring is a suspense-filled moment for every Bucknell woman. Membership in Mortar Board is, for those women chosen, the culmination of a college life of leadership, scholarship, and service.

Correspondingly, Omicron Delta Kappa, national men's honorary, selects for membership those men outstanding in service, leadership, scholarship, character, fellowship, and consecration to democratic ideals.

Honor House, the well-known white house on the corner, is the residence of 13 women elected, on the basis of leadership and participation in campus activities, to live without a house-mother during their senior year.

Each year a group of students are nominated by their classmates for Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. These students are chosen on the basis of scholarship and participation in campus affairs.

Scholarship

Uppermost in the minds of all Bucknellians is scholarship. Excellent scholarship is the goal toward which we strive for four years. Through scholarship we attain the preparation necessary to adequately fill the place which we have chosen in the world. For some the four years spent at Bucknell is only the first step toward higher goals. From the time we enter college we are challenged with scholastic goals. The scholastic honorary for freshman women is Alpha Lambda Delta, and for men, Phi Eta Sigma.

The gold key of Phi Beta Kappa is a cherished symbol of academic achievement, worn by those juniors and seniors who have not only maintained excellent scholastic records, but have demonstrated mature personalities and intense worldly interest. Tau Beta Pi is the equivalent of Phi Beta Kappa in the field of engineering. The key of Tau Beta goes to those engineers chosen for excellent academic achievement and fine character.

It has been truly said that education is a wealth which cannot be taken from its possessor. To every college student scholarship stands as a challenge and goal, the attainment of which is worth earnest endeavor.

Counselors

Each year a group of outstanding men and women students are chosen to act as counselors for the incoming freshmen. The counselors live in the same residence hall as their freshmen charges and endeavor to guide them through the maze of new academic and extra-curricular activities. These advisers are chosen on the basis of friendliness, understanding, and leadership, qualities necessary in aiding freshmen to adjust to college life. Within the hall groups the counselors are an invaluable source of knowledge, and everyone remembers how his or her counselor was willing and able to discuss anything from dating to homesickness at a moment's notice. To the freshmen, the counselor is an adviser, a friend, an amateur psychologist and sometimes a substitute for mother or dad.

L'Agenda

Meetings in the basement cubicle known as the L'AGENDA office begin in September with everyone a little timid about making suggestions, and that all important item, the deadline, looming somewhere in the dim future. By October the staff has swung into action, and meetings are loud, with advice issuing forth from every mouth. The deadline has now become something to get a little scared about, but each editor is inwardly determined to make it.

In November the activity mounts as pictures are snapped and re-snapped, copy is written and re-written, and the boys who solicit the ads and handle the money are taking in and doling out dollars at a furious pace. December is a month of frenzy and headache for all the editors as they try desperately to finish up their section on time. Right before Christmas it arrives—the deadline date—and the same group who began the task in September assembles three months later to put the finishing touches on the results of their labors before giving up and trusting all to the printer.

Bucknellian

Thursday afternoon marks circulation time for the Bucknellian, the college newspaper. Many diversified interests are served in stories which cover social affairs, sports events, club news, student government reports, administrative rulings, and special programs. Through the Bucknellian, students are encouraged to voice opinions, either by writing one of numerous letters to the editor or by contributing feature articles. Such popular columns as "The Driver's Seat" and "Opinions Unlimited" stimulate much thought and discussion, whether the feelings expressed in the columns are pro or con. Mr. Robert Ewing is the adviser for the busy group of journalists who spend Mondays and Tuesdays in the small office on Market Street, where the paper is edited.

Student Handbook

Every Bucknellian will remember flipping hurriedly through the pages of the Student Handbook in search of anything from the location of the lost and found to the calendar of events for the year.

The Handbook, published by the Christian Association, is something that a freshman can not do without and that an upperclassman must refer to more often than he cares to admit. This informative digest contains all the "do's and don'ts" of life on the Bucknell campus plus sections on student government, religious groups, activities and honoraries, sports, fraternities and sororities. A portion of the book is set aside for those inevitable freshman rules, which must be observed by the frosh at all costs.

The staff has succeeded in keeping the rating of the Handbook as a "Bible" of the freshmen.

Bucknell Engineer

The Bucknell Engineer will be best remembered by the engineering students, as it is a professional magazine written especially for them. Published quarterly, this journal gives the students who are specializing in engineering the chance to keep up to date on the latest industrial achievements and other news that might prove helpful and interesting to them. It also affords the opportunity for students to publish their seminar projects. The Bucknell Engineer keeps the students well informed about the world and atmosphere into which they will soon be stepping. Besides providing a means of sharing research and advancement, the magazine gives the students experience in business management and journalism, both of which are helpful to the engineer as he takes his place in the world.

Touche

Glancing back at Touche will indeed bring recollections of prose and poetry of a high calibre, but it will also call forth a chuckle or two. This is our literary and humorous magazine which has made many changes and improvements over the past year so that it now has a much wider range of appeal. The contents of Touche are diversified, ranging from the serious and startling to the light and humorous so that everyone is almost sure to find something that catches his eye. Included in the issues of Touche are poetry, short stories, dramas, satires, anecdotes and anything else that a clever contributor can dream up. Those on the business staff gain experience by promoting, advertising, and selling Touche. Touche provides an outlet for the imagination and creativeness of the literary-minded student. For the rest of us it provides many hours of pleasurable reading.

WVBU

Entertainment to suit the taste of every Bucknellian is offered by the campus radio station, WVBU. The "friendly voice of the three hundred acres" transmits a diversified daily program of music, news, sports, and special features. Students wake in the morning to "Jam For Breakfast", which goes over the air waves six days a week, and are lulled to sleep by Bucknell's own record request program, the "Bitter End."

For those who enjoy being on the other side of the microphone, invaluable experience is offered in announcing, engineering, advertising, or just having fun doing the many odd jobs found around the station.

This year the white frame building on South Seventh Street is a hub-bub of activity. New and improved programming combined with extensive hours on the air keep the group of "Vo-Boos" on campus busy. An apprentice system, within which students gradually work up to their own program, is also a new feature.

Board of Publications and Radio

The Board of Publications and Radio renders a greater service than many students realize. This group is composed of representatives from the administration, the director and business manager of WVBW, and the editors, business managers, and faculty advisers of all campus publications.

The Board has as its responsibility the co-ordination and supervision of the campus radio workshop, WVBW, and the publication of the Bucknell Engineer, the Bucknellian, L'AGENDA, the Student Handbook, and Touche. The Board must grant permission before any student publication carrying the name of the university may be established and before any student may solicit local advertising. The Board also decides questions of policy, authorizes important contracts, approves all appointments to major staff positions, and in a quietly efficient manner solves the multitude of problems which arise in publishing and broadcasting.

Cap and Dagger

The falling curtain, the thundering applause, and the favorable criticism in the Bucknellian all add up to another memorable success for Cap and Dagger. Everyone from the director to the Act Two walk-on has worked hard. This spirit of unity and co-operation is what makes each of C and D's three yearly productions a good one. Students design costumes, put on make-up, wire lights, and make props for each performance. The results are worth-while, for, even though each person has not received the particular role he may have wished for, all have gained something. For actors and stage crew alike new doorways of experience and expression have been opened.

Each spring Cap and Dagger combines with the orchestra, Men's and Women's Glee Clubs, and Modern Dance, to produce, under the name of University Players, an all-college musical. C and D also sponsors an actor's lab in order to provide an outlet for the talents of students aspiring to the theater.

Women's Glee Club

The ninety-four women students from all curricula who participate in the Women's Glee Club will be well remembered for their performances at Dad's Day, Homecoming, the Music Festival, and May Day. This singing society, under the direction of Mr. Allen Flock, has proven by many fine concerts what talent, carefully auditioned each Spring, and a practice session, regularly attended each Monday and Thursday night, can accomplish. The annual mid-winter tour, with concerts throughout the East, is always widely acclaimed by the audiences and long remembered by the girls themselves.

Men's Glee Club

A fine appearance and spirited singing will ever bring to the minds of Bucknellians the Men's Glee Club. Under the direction of Dr. Harold Cook, the Glee Club is one of the organizations within the music department where the men are given an opportunity to develop their musical talents. They give a number of campus concerts and also do local radio work. The men begin training in the fall for their tour through the Middle Atlantic states where their accomplishments are heard and applauded each mid-winter.

Sahli, C. Cargille.

The Chapel Choir, under the able direction of Mr. William McRae, has expanded and improved, and now has approximately sixty members who find it necessary to rotate each week. Long hours are spent in perfecting the harmony of the religious anthems which so greatly enrich chapel services. In addition to their weekly performance, their schedule includes special programs at Christmas and Easter which are enthusiastically received by the student body. Twice a year the Choir goes on extensive tours. Their a cappella singing is one of the most inspiring and enjoyable features of the chapel service and will not be soon forgotten.

The Symphony Orchestra not only gives individual concerts, but also provides accompaniment for other musical organizations. At Christmas time the orchestra's rich background is mingled with the Mixed Chorus in the presentation of the "Messiah." In the spring the orchestra works with the University Players in their musical production. The time that remains is used by the approximately forty-five members in rehearsing for other public appearances. Under the direction of Mr. Howard Boyajian, the many hours of practice pay off with a consistently excellent performance. Members of the Orchestra will long value the experience which they have gained by playing with this group.

Festival of Music

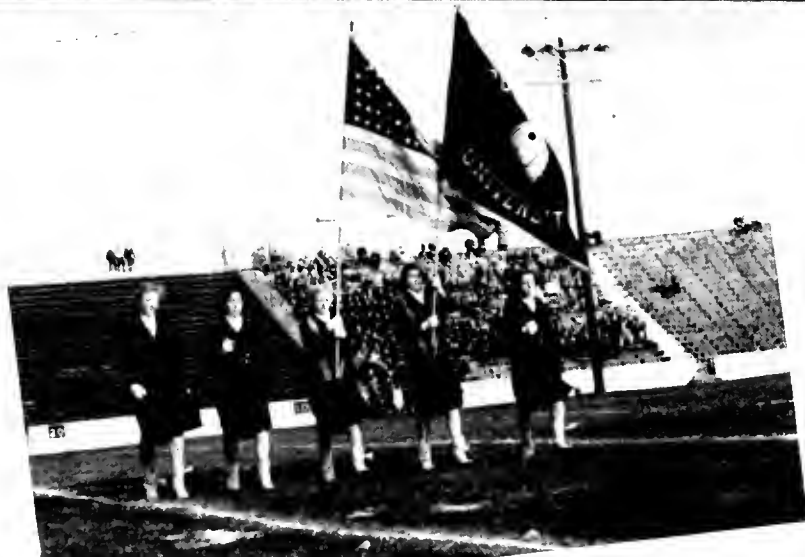

The combining of the Men's Glee Club, Symphonic Band, Chapel Choir, Women's Glee Club, and Symphony Orchestra into the Festival of Music each spring has become an important musical event on campus. Each group participating on its own and under its own director is in itself an accomplishment of unity and coordination. To blend these five different musical organizations into one vast musical tone is a remarkable feat of organization and training requiring untold quantities of time, patience, and practice. It is made possible under the very able direction of Professor William McRae, chairman of the Bucknell music department.

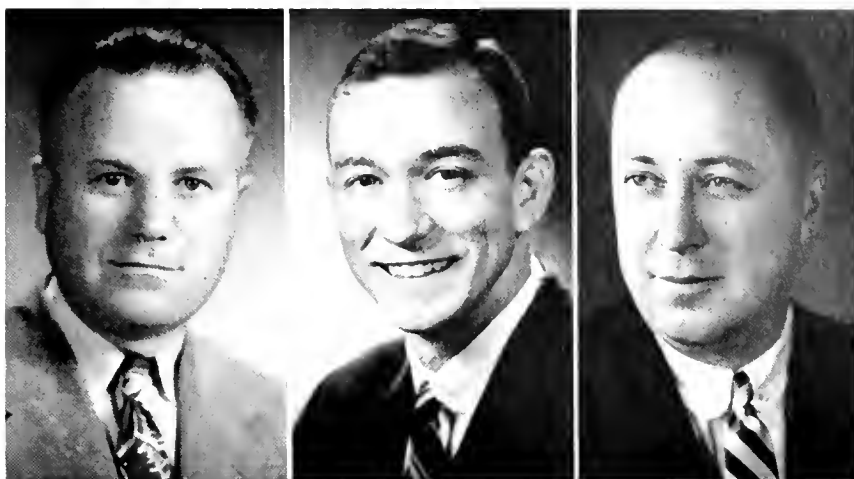

Band

The motto of the Bucknell Band, "Look sharp, feel sharp, be sharp", accurately describes this fast-stepping musical organization directed by Mr. Allen Flock. The continuous pace set by the band begins in the Poconos at a pre-school week of lifting the feet, swinging the arms, and learning the intricate half-time drills for the football games. Outdoor concerts, parades, Christmas and spring performances and a four day tour round out the busy schedule of the highly praised Orange and Blue Band.

Mr. F. Brown, Secretary; F. Naugle, President; Mr. Zeller, Adviser.

Christian Association

A student's contact with the Christian Association begins during the summer before the start of freshman year when he receives the Student Handbook and the pamphlet on Freshman Camp, both of which act as an introduction to college living. Soon after his arrival on campus, the new Bucknellian finds himself caught up in the whirl of all the activities under C. A. leadership—chapel, the Sunday 9:30 Class, and Morning Watch. In such groups, he learns of other people's opinions concerning religion and is able to discuss his own. Through many programs, such as the Burma-Bucknell Weekend and Religion-in-Life-Week, he is able to come closer to his neighbors both at home and abroad. The extra activities of working on the foreign student relations group or in the orphanage group broaden his outlook on life and encourage him to help others. All this is made possible through the help of Forrest Brown, Christian Association secretary; the efforts of the executive cabinet; and the contribution of each student who belongs to C. A.

Hillel Foundation

The Hillel Foundation of Bucknell, associated with national B'nai Brith, combines religion with cultural and social activities. The Friday evening programs are of a religious nature, while the Sunday evening meetings offer a variety of cultural and social programs. All of the Jewish holidays are observed in as nearly a traditional manner as possible, and recently the group recorded services for broadcasting over WVBU.

Newman Club

The Bucknell Newman Club is a member of the National Newman Club Federation. The club provides the Catholic student with an opportunity to advance in his religion while at college. The purpose is carried out religiously, intellectually, and socially.

This year the Bucknell club is editing the Middle Atlantic Province yearbook. This province includes Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware, and Washington, D. C.

Independent Women's Council

The Independent Women's Council is composed of nine women, and is presided over by the independent representative in Senate. It is the duty of the Council to supervise the social activities of the independent women, and to serve as an intermediary between the independents and their Senate representative.

Bucknell Village

To many of Bucknell's young married couples the small white houses across from the stadium are home. Bucknell Village is truly a unique spot on our campus. Here, babies, dishes, and textbooks are fused into a surprisingly well-organized community. The inhabitants elect their own officers to govern the group, and each member adds to its success by co-operating with them. The men volunteer their services in maintaining safety and fire regulations, while their wives, not to be out-done, have formed a club which plays an active part in bringing the residents closer together.

Alpha Phi Omega

Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, has as its purpose, "to assemble college men in the fellowship of the Scout Oath and Law, to develop friendship, and to promote service to humanity."

At Bucknell, APO carries on many ambitious projects, including the student Blood Drive, the sale of Christmas trees in order to raise funds for the Boy Scouts, and the handling of Red Cross and Civil Defense on campus. The group's major project for this year has been the renovation of the Observatory.

N.A.A.C.P.

Through a program designed to bring the democratic ideal to the attention of the student body, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People attempts to break through the barriers of race discrimination and further the cause of civil rights and brotherhood. This group, under the sponsorship of Dr. Cyrus Karraker, brings to the campus colored people distinguished in their fields, maintains the Betty Anne Quinn Scholarship Fund for a Negro student at Bucknell, and, through the Pennsylvania Citizens Committee for Migrant Labor, aids poverty-stricken migrant workers.

Debating Society

Undoubtedly there are no students at Bucknell who can argue a point as successfully as can the members of the Debating Society. This year the main subject of debate has been the question of a guaranteed annual wage. The society commenced the season with an international debate with Cambridge, and has sponsored the annual Good Neighbor Tournament at Bucknell.

Intercollegiate Conference on Government

Those Bucknellians who have attended the meetings of the Intercollegiate Conference on Government have had the good fortune to study government through actual participation in its operations. Through model forms of various political bodies, the I. C. G. provides perhaps the most successful means by which delegates from Pennsylvania schools and colleges may learn about the organization and operation of government.

Booster Club

School spirit is difficult to define and even more difficult to create, yet it is a quality which every university desires and needs. The Booster Club is an organization whose membership is open to all who wish to increase Bucknell school spirit and widen student participation. The group will be best remembered for organizing pep rallies and sponsoring class spirit contests at the football games. Also under the supervision of the club is the pushcart derby and an all-college dance held in the fall. In addition, Booster Club attempts to raise money for various campus organizations, and this year they aided the band in defraying band camp expenses.

U. N. Club

The U. N. Club follows the activities of the United Nations, endeavoring to spread U. N. interest among college students. Their meetings are informal discussions on topics pertinent to the U. N. This year the club sponsored a guided tour of the U. N. building in New York City and sent a delegation to Allegheny College to participate in a model U. N. Security Council. Through its work, the club carries out its slogan, "Don't be unconscious, be U. N. conscious."

Foreign Student Program

Participating in Bucknell's Foreign Student Program this year are twenty students representing eleven foreign countries. Most of these young men and women are here for only one year. Several are doing graduate work, or assisting as language house head residents. A large percent are here on various scholarships and fellowships provided by World University Service, the Fulbright Fellowship Committee, Bucknell, or the governments of their native countries.

Living and working together, these students and native Bucknellians have the opportunity to exchange ideas and feelings. Thus, each becomes better acquainted with the other's homeland, culture, and customs.

Panhellenic Council

Panhellenic Council is made up of two delegates from each of the nine sororities on campus. The duty of the Council is to unify the various groups and to act as a forum for the discussion of individual and collective problems. Policies are formed concerning rushing procedure and initiation qualifications. The group also attempts to improve all aspects of the sorority movement and sponsors cultural and social events as well as an active intersorority sports program. An outstanding fall event is the I. F. C.—Panhell weekend at which time the fraternities and sororities work together to sponsor an all-college formal dance. Panhellenic Council also awards a scholarship each year to a deserving woman student.

Interfraternity Council

Composed of representatives from each of the thirteen fraternities on campus, the Interfraternity Council attempts to solve the problems and adopt the rules which pertain to the men's Greek organizations as a whole. The group seeks to coordinate the activities of the individual fraternities, to further the aims of the fraternity movement as a national force, and to help the fraternities live up to the standards and purposes of the university. Regulation of men's rushing, which was deferred for the first time this year until second semester, and supervision of interfraternity social and athletic programs are just a few of the duties undertaken by the council.

Football

Harry Lawrence's 1955 football team approached the season with a prospect of almost entire rebuilding. Graduation was responsible for the departure of the entire 1954 first string line, and left the Orange and Blue forces without a great deal of reserve strength. However, as the season progressed, Bucknell showed gradual improvement which produced a record of two wins, six losses, and one tie. The highlight of the campaign was the 26-26 tie with Harvard at Cambridge.

Bucknell's starting backfield appeared to be Lawrence's only means of carrying the Bisons through one of the most difficult schedules in the football history of the University. Fullback Bob Ford, who was sixth in the East in the 1954 total rushing statistics, returned to spearhead the Orange and Blue ground attack. Ford, who was selected for All-East honorable mention in 1954 by the Associated Press, received the same honors for the 1955 campaign, while he was also chosen as first team fullback in the All-State voting.

Halfbacks Bob Sierer and Dick McCartney, hard running veteran backs, were also available to pick up sizeable gains when the Bisons were in need of yardage. Quarterback, Jimmy Stewart, a junior and the only starting back who will be present in 1956, proved to be a more than adequate signal caller.

Bucknell opened the campaign with a 25-14 triumph over Albright under the lights in Memorial Stadium. However, Orange and Blue fortunes fell in the second encounter, as the Gettysburg Bullets handed the Bisons a 27-6 setback at the annual Chocolate Bowl classic in Hershey.

The following Saturday saw the Bisons travel to Bethlehem, Pa., and drop their second game to the Lehigh Engineers. A fierce second-half rally on the part of the Orange and Blue was unable to overtake the Engineers who hung on to a slim lead to register a 27-20 victory. The Temple Owls appeared to be unable to cope with the Bison attack as the Thundering Herd romped to a 38-0 win to highlight the Dad's Day ceremonies in Lewisburg.

Bucknell's next opponent, Lafayette, completely outclassed the Bisons at Easton as the Leopards registered a smashing 34-13 triumph. However, just as the Orange and Blue spirits had reached their lowest ebb, the Thundering Herd astounded New England with a 26-26 deadlock against a highly rated Harvard aggregation. Bob Ford registered three Herd touchdowns as the Bisons battled the Crimson for every inch of yardage in one of the hardest fought contests of the year.

Colgate appeared in Memorial Stadium for the Homecoming celebration and promptly handed the Bisons their fourth defeat by a 35-7 count. On the following Saturday, as winter began to close in on Pennsylvania, the Orange and Blue met the Miami Hurricanes before 30,000 fans in Miami's famous Orange Bowl. Heat and southern power appeared to be too much for the Herd who were outplayed, but not out-fought, as the Hurricanes rolled up a 46-0 victory.

The final game of the season saw Dave Miller's fine Delaware Blue Hens give Bucknell its sixth loss of the year on a snow-laden gridiron in Lewisburg by a 27-12 score.

Although the 1955 Bucknell football season cannot be termed a very successful one, the campaign produced some developments which helped to compensate for the losing record. Playing an extremely difficult schedule, the Bisons developed a fighting spirit which should add to the Herd success in 1956 when there will be more experience and depth to cope with an easier schedule.

Several promising sophomores plus returning lettermen Jim Stewart, Ralph Riker, Paul Manning, Don Koppes, and several other veterans should give the Bisons the strength that they will need to register a successful record in the coming campaign.

Freshman Football

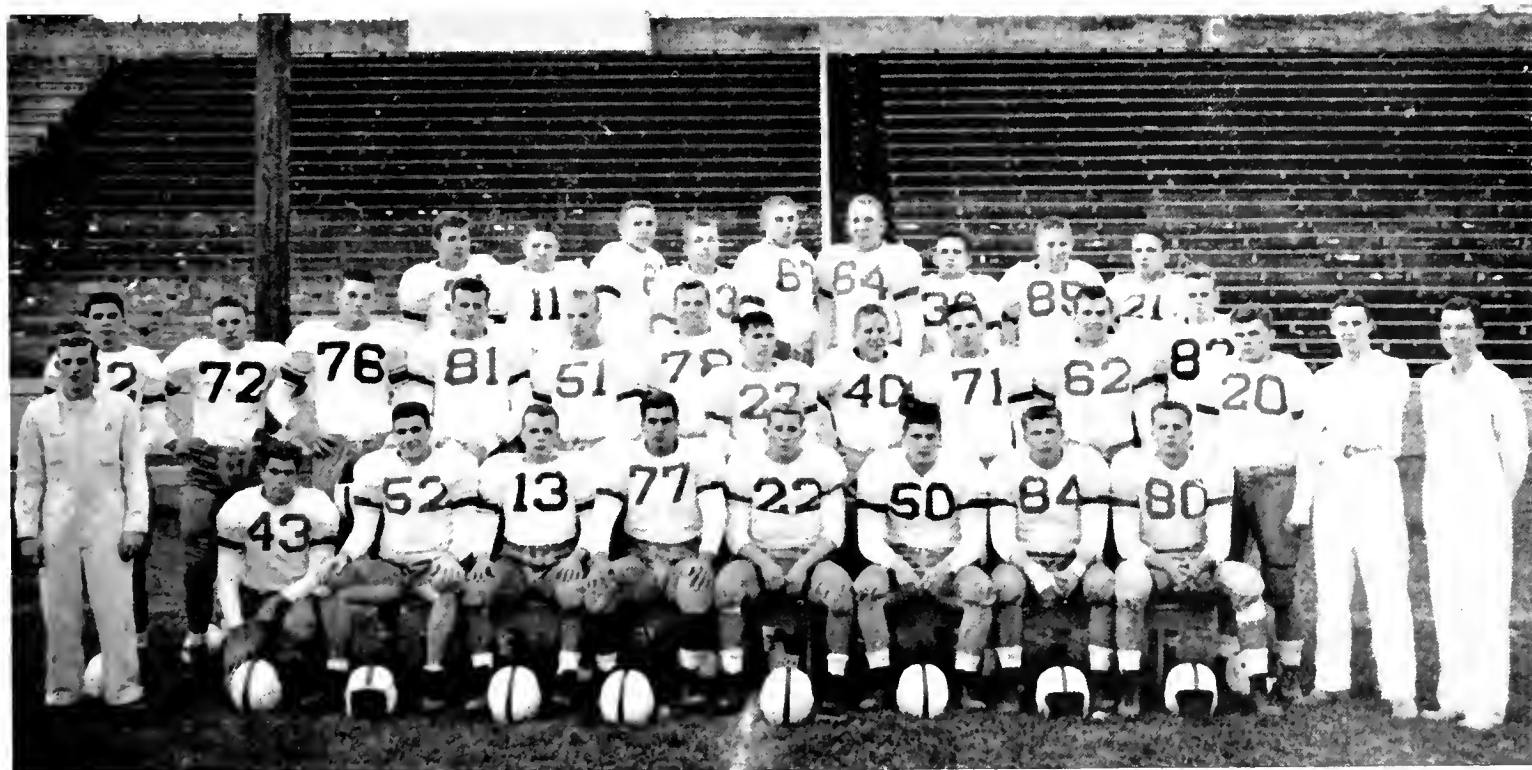

In an abbreviated four-game campaign, Bucknell's 1955 Frosh gridgers compiled a 1-2-1 record. Coached by Ben Kribbs and Franny Hatton, the Baby Bisons were without a win going into their final encounter with Lehigh, but out-scored the Engineers, 14-6, ending the season on the bright side. Halfbacks Andy Errickson and Chuck Apgar registered the TD's for the BU Frosh. The triumph was sweet revenge for a 32-0 drubbing dealt to the Kribbsmen by the '54 Lehigh Freshman squad.

Bucknell scored first in the opening game with Franklin and Marshall, as halfback Tom Jenkins did a lot of fine running, but the Diplomats came roaring back with three touchdowns and a 19-7 victory.

Quarterback Lee Davis, replacing the injured Dick Roth, handled the team well against Lock Haven, but after four periods of battle, neither team had managed to score.

Facing Kiski, Bucknell quickly registered a pair of touchdowns to take a 14-0 advantage. The prep school aggregation kept pecking away at the BU defense, however, and before the contest was complete had three TD's and 20-14 triumph. Bad weather that caused floods throughout the East in early October forced the cancellation of the Bucknell-Gettysburg contest.

Although the season was not too successful in the won-lost column, several promising boys showed to advantage and will undoubtedly bolster Harry Lawrence's 1956 varsity grid ensemble. In the forward wall, size was no problem. Center Verdon Kerswell 223, guards Jack Cornwall 195 and Lew Hart 204, and tackles Dick Hunn 230, Tom Horsman 210 and Bob Colborn 212 were outstanding. At the terminal posts Manlio DeSantis and Bob Ross, both six-footers, showed good ability.

Soccer

Fashioning their first winning season in coach Hank Peters' four years as coach, the Bison soccer team hung up a 4-3-2 log last fall. The team tied with Drexel for the divisional Middle Atlantic States title, but dropped the playoff, 2-0, on a snow-swept field at Franklin and Marshall. Earlier in the campaign, Drexel had beaten the Orange and Blue booters, 4-1, for the Herd's only loop loss.

The high point of the season was a 4-3 loss to Penn State's unbeaten national champions at Lewisburg. Bucknell scored all its goals in the first quarter, two by George Dowden, and led, 3-2, at halftime. As a large crowd of partisan spectators stood anticipating the upset of the year, All-American Dick Packer hammered in a pair of Lion goals in the second half to keep State's record intact.

In the season's opening contest with always tough Temple, Bucknell dropped a 2-1 decision.

Co-captain, Al Christenson, who was 'always there', climaxed a three-year career at center half as the Bisons' 'holler guy'. Goalie Lee Hamilton performed brilliantly throughout the year, making one fabulous save after the other. Pairing with Christenson and Ozzie Dull at halfback, Herb Kopp, the other co-captain also completed his third year as a regular. Sam Wood, who played practically every position except goalie, was also outstanding.

The Bisons' four wins were at the expense of Delaware, Gettysburg, Western Maryland, and Franklin and Marshall, all league opponents. The pair of deadlocks were with Wilkes and Elizabethtown.

Bucknell's scoring punch, which totalled 23 goals, was led by a line composed of seniors Patch Clark, and Dick Clark, Dowden, Joel Winchip, and Mick Finley. George Polley, Pete Clow, and Chuck Deardorff alternated at fullback until an injury put Deardorff on the shelf.

Wrestling

After dropping their first five meets of the season, the Bucknell wrestlers came storming back to gain decisions over Ursinus and Delaware and to cop fifth place in the Middle Atlantic Championships at Allentown. Lafayette scored 34 points in the tournament to dethrone defending champ Gettysburg with 19.

Although their 2-5 log was just a shade superior to last season's 1-6 record, three of the Herd's losses were by four points or less. Only Gettysburg and Lafayette soundly thrashed the BU matsters. Compared with last year's cellar showing, Bucknell's performance at the '56 Middle Atlantics is another indication of the squad's improvement.

Temple helped to open the Bisons' season by handing them an 18-16 setback. After Lafayette slammed out a 28-5 triumph, the Herd dropped identical 20-16 decisions to Muhlenberg and Haverford. Gettysburg's Bullets tacked on a 27-3 pasting, before Bucknell found the win trail, downing Ursinus, 20-10, and Delaware, 19-13.

Larry Dempster, a sophomore 167-pounder, and senior co-captain Chuck Anderson, wrestling 157, turned in the best individual records. Dempster copped six of seven bouts, while Anderson had a 5-1-1 ledger. The 157-pounder registered the Bisons' only win over Gettysburg. He and Dempster were Bucknell's only point-producers in the Lafayette match, Dempster winning a decision and Anderson fighting to a draw.

A pair of sophomores, Al Grande 130 and heavyweight Bill Benton were also outstanding for the Herd. Both men gained runnerup medals in the Middle Atlantics. On the season Benton won four of six matches, all by pins. Grande, after recovering from an early injury, took three of his four outings. Co-captain Stan Ellson, a 177-pounder, finished up strong, winning his last two bouts and third place in the tournament.

Other Bison starters were Bob Hoffman 123, Nate Headley 137, and Cub Wyant 147.

With only two regulars graduating this year, Coaches Bill Wrabley and Franny Hatton are optimistic about prospects for 1957. A number of talented freshman performers should help to bolster the squad as well.

Stop tickling!

What do I do now, coach?

Basketball

Chalking up ten wins in 24 decisions, the 1955-56 Bucknell basketball team achieved the best court record at the 300 acres since the 1946-47 ensemble posted an 11-8 ledger. The ten triumphs equalled the win totals of the past three Bison quintets, indicating that coach Ben Kribbs' rebuilding program is ready to pay off.

The squad also dropped decisions of four points or less to Colgate, Cortland, Hofstra, and Lafayette, all among the East's better teams.

The Herd started and finished strong, winning three of their last four contests. Participating in the Hofstra Tournament during the Christmas holidays, the Kribbsmen lost to top-seeded Hofstra, 88-62, in the first round and dropped a double-overtime consolation contest to Cortland, 90-87. Hofstra had a harder time with the Bisons in February, winning by an 83-81 count. BU also beat Carnegie Tech, 65-60; Penn State, 81-74; Delaware, 91-82; and Gettysburg, 79-68.

Co-Captain Ben Slavitt was the only senior on this year's roster. Kribbs' starting cast resembled Casey Stengel's famous batting orders at times, hardly ever featuring the same lineup in consecutive games. Nearly every player found his name among the opening quintet more than once.

Marty Tannenbaum, a junior, finished up as the top point-getter with 316 points and a 14.4 average. He was tops in field goals with 123 and shooting accuracy from the floor with a 45.4 percentage. Tannenbaum scored 20 or more points on seven occasions.

John Beatty, second to Tannenbaum in the scoring totals, and Co-Captain Norm Voorhees each bettered 200 points. Beatty made the most free throws, 74, and was the top rebounder with 176 and 7.7 per game average. His 28 points against Delaware were the season's best individual scoring performances.

Set shooting Joe Baccelli, Mike Corrigan, and big Al Kenzie, all juniors as are Beatty and Voorhees, performed well throughout the season.

Three sophomores, Skip Wieder, John Strizzi, and Bob Salankiewicz were particularly impressive.

Freshman Basketball

Displaying a well balanced attack with accurate shooting, Coach Bill Lane's freshman hoopsters turned in a fine 13-4 log for the season. The Lanemen beat every team they played, however, splitting decisions with Penn State, Muhlenberg, Gettysburg, and Albright. Only the Mules topped the frosh by more than four points. Bucknell freshman teams have lost but eight contests during the past three seasons.

After winning their first six games, including a 49-48 squeaker at Albright and a tough 71-64 nod over Gettysburg, the yearlings copped two straight, one to State, 63-59, and one to Muhlenberg, 77-69. They found the win trail again with a 96-59 pasting of Lycoming and gained revenge over State's freshmen by a 76-67 score. Gettysburg copped its return engagement, 65-61, but the Baby Bisons roared back to Davis Gym to dump Muhlenberg, 101-79, and start a five-game win skein. Albright fought off the Lanemen's second-half comeback to win the finale, 71-67, after the Baby Herd had whittled down a 14 point lead.

Six-foot-five Harry Danzig, Ellis Harley, George Mandakas, Jack Flanagan, and Dick Kniffen were Lane's starting outfit through out most of the season. Each averaged better than ten points per game. Skyscraping "Bones" Ericson provided extra rebounding strength throughout the season. Mandakas and Danzig also performed well under the boards. Other team members were Bill Wooster, Jim Carlson, Joe Dentz, Ty Gillies, Herb Kallenberg, Gerry McLaughlin, and Dave Ott.

Track

Chalking up five wins, including a pair of triangular meets, Bus Blum's 1955 cinder Bisons put together the finest track and field record in Bucknell history. The Herd topped Muhlenberg, Franklin and Marshall, and Dickinson in dual meets and defeated Gettysburg and Juniata and Albright and Ursinus in a pair of triangular battles.

Sprinter Ed Burg, who will captain the 1956 squad, was Blum's top runner, winning eight of ten events. He was unbeaten in the 220. Other valuable point-producers were captain Frank Vanderhoof, hurdler Larry Comfort, distance-men Art Saunders and Al Larrabee and polevaulter Bob Stevens. Ron Lloyd and Bill DeWire were the bulls in the weight events.

Losing only a handful of seniors from last season, Blum is hoping for another good year this spring. Counted upon heavily are Burg, Saunders, Larrabee, Stevens, and DeWire. Sophomores will add much needed depth to the squad.

Three dual meets and a pair of triangular encounters are listed on the 1956 program. In addition, the Bisons are entered in the Penn Relays at Philadelphia's Franklin Field and will compete in the Middle Atlantic championships near the close of the season.

Tennis

The Bucknell netmen enjoyed another successful season while facing strong opposition last year. Their 10-8 record marked the fourth straight year that a Hank Peters' squad has been a winning one.

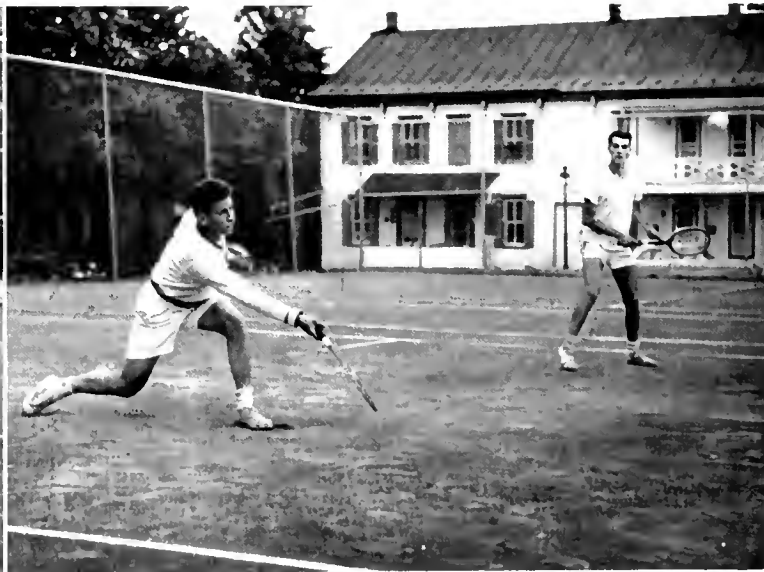

Outstanding for the Bisons was sophomore Jack Pulizzi, who won 16 out of 18 individual matches including 12 in succession. He returns this year, along with captain Al Christenson, Jim Stewart, Art Hartwell, and John Fincke, as the Herd embarks upon another tough schedule. Peters' '56 racketeers will be minus three seniors when they start action. Gone are captain Dick Wormser, Dick Richter, and Bob McInroy; all three were regulars in last year's campaign.

Led by captain Pete Straub playing No. 1, Bucknell's golf team split fourteen matches last year for the best seasonal log here since 1947. The linksmen notched victories over Temple, Lafayette, Albright, Gettysburg, Juniata, and Dickinson. In the Middle Atlantic championship matches, the Evansmen finished third. Comprised of Bob Miller, Dave Doane, Andy Horvat, Jim Ladd, and Don Albee, the balance of coach Harold Evans' squad will return for more action on the University Course this spring.

As usual, the Herd will wage a top-notch 14-match schedule involving primarily Middle Atlantic opponents. Navy, Cornell, Penn State, Colgate, and Syracuse are outstanding schools appearing on the 1956 Bucknell card.

Baseball

Bucknell will field a veteran squad on the diamond this year while playing an ambitious 20-game schedule. Contests with Navy, Pitt, Lafayette, Penn State, Colgate, and Syracuse are featured on the Bison card, which is also sprinkled with Middle Atlantic league opponents.

Starting returnees will be at six of the nine positions, including pitching ace Don Richards. Catcher Rich McFarland is back for his third year as a regular and Bob Whitehead, Zeke Zartman, Clark Workman, Roy Rangnow, and Sam Sulliman are the veteran infield candidates. Chuck Sneath, Don Wain, and Dick Hober will be ready to go in the outfield for the Herd.

Barely missing the '55 Middle Atlantic crown, last year's ensemble split 20 games, including ten league triumphs. At one point in the season, the squad won six games in succession and eight of ten, but this was not enough to make up for earlier losses to Gettysburg and Lafayette, both MA foes.

Intramural Sports

Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity, winner of the intramural sports crown for the 1954-55 campaign, turned all its efforts upon maintaining the championship for another year. However, Delta Upsilon, runner-up last season, and victor the year before, copped an early season advantage in the over-all standings.

The Demies jumped off to a fine start with a triumph in soccer competition, while Sigma Alpha Mu and Sigma Alpha Epsilon followed close behind with tennis and handball championships respectively.

However, DU was able to widen their margin with a win in cross-country, as Demie Art Saunders took the individual honors, and a triumph in wrestling. Sigma Alpha Mu captured the bowling championship, and Phi Lambda Theta took home the IM basketball trophy.

Bus Blum, of the physical education department, supervises the intramural sports program, which includes twelve sports. The purpose of the program is to give more students a chance to participate in athletic competition, and to promote sportsmanship and school spirit.

A Student Intramural Athletic Council, made up of fraternity representatives, organizes and takes charge of the activities. Medals are awarded to all individual winners and trophies are given to the victorious fraternities. Competition is held in soccer, tennis, handball, cross-country, bowling, basketball, boxing, wrestling, volleyball, track, golf, and softball.

Men's Physical Education

You name it—they've got it. Bucknell's physical education program under the direction of Al Humphreys, offers a wide variety of sports and activities for freshman and sophomore men. In the fall, soccer is the highlight of the frosh program. The sophs take to the golf links and tennis courts for their instruction. Winter brings the yearlings indoors for a crack at gymnastics, wrestling, boxing, and volleyball. The mat and ring sports always make a big "hit" with everyone. Winter sophomore classes take up bowling, badminton, and handball. Softball ushers in spring for the frosh athletes, while the sophomores may take another crack at golf or tennis. As soon as construction of Bucknell's pool is completed, swimming will also become a part of the physical education program.

Students are required to take four semesters of physical education courses. Classes are instructed by the varsity coaches.

Women's Physical Education

Any coed, whether she be an avid sports fan or just interested in learning and participating in something new, will find the activities of the physical education department both valuable and enjoyable. Under the direction of the Women's Athletic Association and the department itself both intergroup and interclass sports are offered to all women students. This fall Bucknell acted as host to the Central Pennsylvania Hockey Tournament at which time such schools as Wilson, Shippensburg State Teachers College, and Penn State participated in intergroup competition. During basketball season the coeds journeyed to Penn State, Lycoming, and Susquehanna to enter in play days. Although Bucknell does not offer an actual physical education course, the college is always well represented in interschool competition.

All women students automatically belong to the Women's Athletic Association, which is governed by a board of elected representatives from all four classes under the direction of the physical education department. WAA sponsored activities include May Day, Orchesis, and the Sadie Hawkins Day Dance. A banquet is held each year in the spring at which time sports awards are given.

"B" Club

The "B" Club, whose membership is comprised of letter-winners in all varsity sports, is fast becoming one of the most highly-respected organizations at Bucknell.

"B" Club members handle refreshments and programs at dances and athletic events, co-sponsor the Sadie Hawkins Dance with WAA, and recognize and award honors to worthy Bucknell sports personalities.

The Club, headed this year by Stanley Ellson, also undertakes to entertain a group of orphans at varsity sports events.

Cheerleaders

During football season especially, the cheerleaders were very busy people. Besides practicing long hours behind Bucknell Hall, leading cheers at every home and most away games, and holding tryouts for the freshmen, they worked with the Booster Club to promote school spirit by participating in pep rallies, and team send-offs and welcomes. During Homecoming Weekend, the cheerleaders, captained this year by Annette Littlefield, could be seen leading the float parade, then cheering at the Alumnae Luncheon in Davis Gym. Basketball season saw them in action on the floor at every home game.

LEWISBURG, PA., THURSDAY, MARCH 25, 1954.

CLASS OF 1956 TO PRESENT CARNIVAL ON FRIDAY NIGHT

Everyone is invited to the fun and entertainment to be found at the Sophomore Carnival Friday, March 26 at Davis Gym, starting at 7 p. m. A parade at 6:30 will start the activities of this project to raise funds for the Class of 1956 Prom.

The main attraction of the carnival will be presented at 10:30 p. m. Entitled "The All-Star Revue of '56," this feature consists of five acts which will be emceed by Marvin Wische.

In keeping with the carnival theme, cokes, cotton-candy, and hot dogs will be on sale to refresh the merry-makers. There will also be prizes awarded and a big surprise event near the close of the evening. Balloons, pennants and the decorated booths will provide the necessary atmosphere for this occasion. However, a thronging, fun-loving crowd is the most essential ingredient for this night of festivity when the Sophomore Class presents its carnival. See you all there!

THURSDAY, MARCH 8, 1956.

Senior Men Select Nine Finalists For 1956 Prom Queen

Nine finalists for the 1956 Senior Prom Queen have been nominated by senior men students.

Those who will be members of the court are: Babs Besosa, Barb Bauer, Tinky Eccles, Bobbie Folk, Pat Groff, Margie Marshall, Nancy Shepler, Bette Skow, and Betty Jane Wigginton. The nine finalists were chosen from 20 semi-finalists nominated by the whole senior class. Selection was made on the basis of beauty.

Modeling Agencies Vote

Photographs taken by Don Ross of each of the nine girls have been sent to New York modeling agencies who will each cast one ballot for queen. Johnny Long, Stan Rubin, and Governor Leader of Pennsylvania will also cast their votes. The nominee who received the most votes from the senior men at the last balloting has had one ballot cast for her. Ballots will be tallied and the winner announced at the Prom.

Tickets for the 1956 Senior Prom, March 16 from 9-1 a. m. in Davis Gym and Annex, are on sale in all fraternity houses and dorms for $5 per couple.

Plantation Theme

Johnny Long and Stan Rubin's Tigertown Five will supply four hours of continuous dance music in a southern plantation atmosphere. An outstanding feature of the decorations will be Spanish moss shipped from South Carolina. The first shipment has already arrived from Walterboro, South Carolina, where it was picked by the Boy Scouts of America.

DONKEY BASKETBALL PLANNED BY JUNIORS FOR FRIDAY EVENING

It will be every man (and donkey) for himself on Friday, March 18, when the junior class sponsors a donkey basketball game in Davis Gym at 8:00 p. m.

Four teams, comprised of four members each, will play in the four events of the evening. The teams will include senior and junior boys, junior girls, faculty members, and members of the intramural all-star basketball team.

Playing on the Junior boys team will be Art Kinney (captain), Ron Hendricks, Don Richards, Tony Hoffman, Ernie Kalman, Bob Gord, Stan Ellson, and Don Wain. Playing for the Junior girls will be Bette Skow (captain), Lou Adams, Wiggy Wigginton, Jean Uhler, Barbara Glenn, Ginny McCully, Nancy Beasten, Shirley Laffin, and Nancy Bimmerman.

An all-star team will be composed of Bob Antkowiak (captain), Marion Minker, Ken Tashjy, Dick Bradway, Ed Janes, Jim Stewart, Ron Henwood, and Bob Harbaugh. On the faculty team will be Neil Shiffer, Richard DuWors, Charles Hollister, Malcolm Musser, Bill Lane, Frank Martin, Nick Troisi, and Captain Thomas Johnson.

The musical background for this donkey game will be supplied by band members from Kappa Sig, DU, and Phi Lam.

Those spectators holding lucky number tickets will be winners of cartons of Lucky Strike cigarettes.

BUCKNELL and LEWISBURG

On the fiftieth anniversary of Bucknell history, Dr. Harris stated in an address, "if this institution or a similar one had not been founded in Lewisburg, three fourths of those who have been educated here, would have no liberal education whatever. All the power which has gone forth from this center for the uplifting of society and the healing of the nations would have been wanting to the world." However, in these latter days as our alumni have scattered everywhere and Bucknell has become better known and transportation has speeded up the percentage of local students and students from a distance has reversed itself. From stage coaches and canals to buses and private cars is the difference between five miles and sixty or more miles per hour. At this first half century celebration, Dr. Harris was right, most of our students came from Union and other nearby counties.

Bucknell came to a well established town in the days of the booming Pennsylvania Canal. The charter of our local Blue Lodge is now over a hundred and fifty years old. From 1846 on, Bucknell and Lewisburg have grown together and grown much alike. Lewisburg, itself, is filled with early Bucknell history and many local families helped to found and finance the modest beginning of Bucknell. Many old homes in Lewisburg were in their prime then and were built so well that they are still giving good service to their present owners.

Mentioning just a few homes we would name first, Bucknell's famous author and Bucknell historian, Dr. Lewis Theiss, directly across from the president's house. Going back about a hundred years, two other Bucknellians occupied this same house, Dr. Lowry, professor, preacher and hymn writer, and Dr. Bartol, our best known mathematician and astronomer. The present Ziegler Infirmary, another one in the century class was built by a former professor and president of Bucknell, Dr. George B. Groff. The College Inn now occupies part of his former estate. Bucknell's present cafeteria building was occupied and owned by Honorable George F. Miller, another one of Bucknell's notables and trustees. The present Wolf and Sharkly homes as we come to know them and enjoy their hospitality is a store house of Bucknell history and founders and contributors to a struggling young College. Dr. Loomis, long time president of Bucknell (1860-1880) built the steep roofed house on South Third, now occupied by Harry Stein. Dr. Loomis did much of his own construction and in like manner, the dangerous work on the almost vertical steeple of the Baptist Church. Mrs. Loomis was still living in our day and we enjoyed many a date in her home with a certain coed, in her senior year. The former Kappa Sigma house, now only a memory, was built by President Malcom and later occupied by Professor Calvin Hare, versatile salesman of unpopular electives and bill collector, extraordinary, for the Registrar's Office. We could never forget that. He always got his man. That is anyone who was on the list of the ten most wanted deadbeats and financial fugitives from "Billy" Gretzinger's Financial Domain.

The present domicile of the S. P. E.'s Fraternity originally belonged to Professor Greer, father of Dr. Mable Leshner, now a retired missionary and later on by Professor Benj. Thomas, principal of the Bucknell Academy and Registrar of Bucknell. The double house on St. George Street, "down by the river side" was long occupied by descendants of the Meixal family, a familiar name among the founders of Bucknell. The Honor House, formerly the "Billy" Owens home, the Martin House and Hully House were owned and occupied by Bucknell professors. Dr. Enoch Perrine "Pero, Piro, Pop Perrine we are the class of 1909" dates back to 1885. The Leiser Home on St. George Street, has long been the home of prominent Bucknell Lawyers as well as one related by marriage, Roy Bostwich of Pittsburgh, a godfather to the Kappa Sigma Fraternity and one of Bucknell's most distinguished friends. The P. L. T. Fraternity house was the former Griffith family home, father and son, long related to Bucknell. The old Slifer home is now the Old Folks Home of the Evangelical Church. The McClure Home on University Ave., famous as a station on the underground railroad for run-away slaves, has long been occupied by the McClure family, intimately related to Bucknell. The two Dreisbach homes in Lewisburg, are now occupied by one of Bucknell's most successful Alumni, Cy Morgan, vice president of Martz and Lundy and we are saving the other one for Dr. Joseph Henderson, one of Bucknell's greatest benefactors and greatest friends, long time chairman of the board of trustees and interregnum of Bucknell. President Odgers' present occupant of the Bucknell "White House" is the sixth prexy to occupy our first official President's House, built originally for Dr. Hill (1880-1890) as we figure this out by some historical deductions.

We could mention many more, whom we never knew much about and several that are well known to Bucknellians of our own generation. There is the "Tommy" Edwards house on Sixth Street, now occupied by Dr. Bond, long time Professor of religion at Bucknell. "Tommy" Edwards is remembered best as the principal of the Academy and later on as the only male Dean of Bucknell Women. "Jakie" Hamblin, the Linn Home, the "Billy" Gretzinger House, now a girls' dormitory, the Nesbit House now the Lewisburg Club, The Stoughton House, distinguished by many prominent Bucknellians, related to them by marriage. The Gundy and Wingert Farm Houses and the more recent and modern home of Dean Phillips, now occupied by Dr. Gathings.

To raise the first $100,000 made necessary by the Pennsylvania Legislature to secure the original charter for Bucknell University, over 4,000 subscribers averaging $24.50 apiece, in which Lewisburg gave over $12,000. In the first two buildings on the hill, the academy and west wing, Lewisburg gave approximately half this amount. In every succeeding drive they have borne their share.

Concerning all this generosity on the part of the Lewisburg citizens, Dr. Harris states, "It is of consequence, both to the town and to the college that this feeling continues. The prosperity of the one is the prosperity of the other. This is true not only in the material, but also in the spiritual. There is a constant interaction between the school and the town, which if the influence be of the right kind cannot but prove beneficial to all." at least so says Dr. Harris, probably the greatest mind and the greatest builder in Bucknell history. Certainly we all know that the times and circumstances change our view-point and here is hoping that Christian education is not dominated by the "money changers" and we become ungrateful and forgetful of our long time benefactors and neighbors.

Alma Mater

Dear Bucknell, oft of thee we're thinking,
And Mem'ries fond come trooping by;
The tireless stars may cease their blink'ng,
But thoughts of thee shall never die;
And though the years steal swiftly o'er us
And winter comes with biting sting,
Our hearts with youth's undaunted chorus,
Shall e'er with praise of Bucknell ring.

We burn the incense of affection,
As in thy sacred fanes we meet,
While down the aisles of recollection
Come thronging forms we love to greet;
And though life's bitter storms sweep o'er us
And pleasures bide on fleeting wing,
Our hearts shall blend in loving chorus,
While Alma Mater's praise we sing.
